Post effice Grounds.

We publish this morning the assessment roll to defray the expense of widening Dearborn street, from Madison to Monroe. A strip of land must be taken from the front of the lots on the weat side of the street which project beyond the line of Dearborn north of Madison, so as to give that street a uniform width up to the Post Office. The United States Government owns a portion of the land that projects into Dearborn street. The city has no right to take and condemn it; but it is understood that the Government intends to donate it to the street. This has not yet been done, and we suggest that it would be proper for the Council to address 4 note to the U. S. District, ettorney, requesting him to seem the favorite, and $100 to $50 against Princess was offered and accepted with him to seem the favorite, and $100 to $50 against Princess took the lead to the lead to the street when the second heat, Princess took the lead CHICAGO. him to submit the matter to the proper Depart-ment at Washington, and have the necessary cession of ground made to the city for the u of the street. Rock Mountain Valler, July 24, 189.

Jean Brothers—Yours of Jame 24th, was received July 17th, and you may be sure I was glad tobear from bome, as my last from there was dast May 3th. From what I can learn Horace Greeky has set the Eastern world in a great extenenge with his glowing accounts of the gold ascoreries in the mountains; and report asyathere are now 20,000 emigrants on the way labler, who would have been home had it not been for said report. Now I will tell you what hekew of the mines, and what I think know. The Gregory daggings had but just been opened, all they were yielding from 10 cents to 21 per Lo. A large entigration had just landed, 2a the sight of gold, since their expetations, hadbeen biasted at Cherry Creek, produce, a the sight of gold, since their expetations, hadbeen biasted at Cherry Creek, produce, a temendous excitement. Every man felt himselfworth thousands, because, circooth, he was in the land of gold, and nothing to do out to dig frout.

The mines, and in fact every one here with a very lev exceptions, are the greatest liars every saw. Gredey was here then a few days and swallowed deery thing that was told him.

That there is gold here, and in large quantities I do not devy; but that more than one in live hundred is doing better than a common day-labober in the States is nutrue. Some say one in a thousand is a fair average.

There are three kinds of diagong here, viz. lea, guleh and bar. The leads are in the rocks 2a the mountains. They are found by the Blosson Rock, as its called; or burned stone on the surface, occasioned, as is supposed, by internal heat or roleanic action of some earlier day, which opseed the reck, forming a seam now fall of distor rotten storie, in which the gold is found. Gregory's lead has only the four gold, and they are or were the richest.

concent of pay dirt, when one of their company was nearly killed by the unexpected explosion of a blast. What will become of them God only knows.

Wages here are only $2.50 per day, and it costs at least $\frac{2}{2}$ per day for board, and work is very scarce at that. Gulch diggings are not worked when the water is high, and when it is dry they have nace. They have paid well when they could be worked.

The bar diggings are on the banks of creeks and are nearly forsaken at present. It requires two or three months to open a lead, and it may pay when opened, but no estrainty of it. They have no every divided and they are a great many sick in the mountains—fire died yesterday, and four the day previous, in our vicinity, of the mountain fever. Our company have been sick, all of us, during the past two weeks.

Taking all things in consideration, we have concluded it would be wisdom in us to "make tracks" for Americal Hundreds are leaving excry day and as many more containg in.

We shall start to morrow, ozen permitting, for home, and hope to reach Council Bells in five weeks.

The present position of the Eric Railroad affords a most instructive lesson in railway management. It shows that stupidity and churlishne see are rain the best and most betweenful roads. Though the condition of the Eric road is had—it is by no means hopeless. A few years of good and efficient management may restore it to its former position of popularity before the public. The Receiver is Nathaniel Marsh, Esq., who for the last taller or fifteen years has been the Secretary of the Complany. years has been the Secretary of the Company. We know him well and have entire confidence trieve the position the company has lost under the $25,000 Moran dynasty. He is thoroughly conversant with all the affairs of the Company, and as he is "both honest and capable," the inerests of all parties will be safe in his hand We have watched the downward progress of the Eric road with regret, for the West has deep interest in its success and prosperity. Now that there is hope of a radical change for the better, we shall not fail to keep the public advised on its progress.

Constitution of the State of Kansas.

The Constitution framed by the convention held for that purpose at Wyandott, Kansas, is the 4th of October next. In an ordinance pre-fixed to the instrument the State relinquishes the right to tax certain of the lands included within its boundaries, provided Congress granthem for the use of common schools, the maintenance of a State University, for the erec-tion of public buildings, and for the use of chari-table and benevolent institutions, etc. The amount of land to be thus donated is nearly a million of acres, besides see per cent of the pro-ceeds of the public lands in the State, disposed of after its admission into the Union. The boundaries of the State are defined as follows: oundaries of the State are defined as follows:

Washington, thence borth on said meridian to the forusts parallel of north latitude, thence cast on the said parallel to the western boundary of the State of Missouri, thence south with the western boundary of a said State to the place of beginning. The bill of rights comprises twenty sections. It declares the equal and inalienable right of all men to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; the right of the Legislature to alter, revoke, or repeal any special privileges or immunities which may have been granted; the right of the people to bear arms; the inviolability of of the people to bear arms; the inviolability of xemption from impresonment for debt except a cases of fraud; and abolishes all distinction county.

From this statistical exhibit (which is officially reliable) the Democracy of the State will be able to comprehend, at a glance, to what extant the outposts require strengthening, in their respective countries.

Five thousand copies of said exhibit will be printed, being about one copy to every ten Democratic and American roters, which, with a much greater proportion of public document matter, auitable to the time and place, it is desired to distribute in each precinct in every county throughout the State; and, to accomplish this end, I have the honor to request that you may promptly furnish me with the yame and post office of one or two sound and discreet fellow-workers in the cause in each township in your county. To these gentlemen I would transmit this matter for distribution, taking occasion to remind them how much good a little effort would result in, to their benefit and that of the Democracy.

In connection, it is deemed proper and expedient to state that I have communicated with the Chairman of the State Executive Committee in reference to the creation of a Democratic State fund for such aforesaid purposes: and in The Constitution is comprised in fifteen artiwo years. The supreme executive and pardon-ng powers are vested in the Governor; and the presentatives and 33 Senators. The Judiciar to be elective. No special act conferring corporate to us all; and believing that you as a Democrat, awake to the necessity of a vigorous effort for the ascendancy of our party in lowa, this fall— will appreciate the prompt action on my part consequent upon the limited time to carry this powers to be passed, and no circulating notes of less denomination than $5 to be issued by any banking institution. Lotteries are prohibited; and any person engaged in a duel, either as principal or accessory, to be ineligible to any office of trust or profit. The Legislature is to provide for the protection of women, married and single, in acquiring and possessing real and single. Only Two Remain.

The Missouri Democrat has the following. It is understood that the Democrat is in favor of a fusion of the Republican and Old Line Whig or and sixty acres of farming land, or one acre There is hardly any question but that this doubt that if either shall receive the nomina-tion from the Republican Convention, he will be elected. We are free to confess that the Ten-nessee statesmam has a most commendable rec-ord. He is, perhaps, the most consistent public man in the United States. He had the manhood to vote against the Kaniss-Nebraska bill, and to oppose the entire territorial policy of which that measure was the initiation. Though the leader of the American party in Tennessee, he never joined the Order—never entered a lodge or took an oath—and this fact would not be without its force in a Presidential canvass. He has sacrificed his public career to his convic-tions—but hough broken he has always refused to bend. Take him all in all, John Bell is a very distinguished man, and an honor to Tennes-see. Constitution will be ratified by an overwhelming anjority of the people of Kansas, notwithstanding the Democratic members of the convention main the United States. He had the manhood to yote against the Kansas-Nebraska bill, and to oppose the entire territorial policy of which that measure was the initiation. Though the leader of the American party in Tennessee, he never joined the Order—never entered a lodge or took an oath—and this fact would not be without its force in a Presidential carrasa. He has secrificed his public career to his convictions—but though broken be has always refused to bend. Take him all in all, John Bell is a very distinguished man, and an honor to Tennessee, the nominated there without the consent of the South. The old two-thirds rule, it takes for franted, will be maintained, and under it the united South can slaughter whom it pleases, in defiance of the majority from the North. The whole number of electoral votes being 205, the Convention will consist of twice that number, or 606. Under the two-thirds rule, 404 will be required to make a nomination. The strength of the Southern States in the Convention will be as follows.

Mississippid

We do not deny that there are other Southern men, such as John M. Botts and Kenneth Raynor, who are conspicuous in their opposition to the National Democracy, but we repeat that of the Southern Opposition only Bates or Bell can be elected to the Presidency. Missouri would vote for Bates, and Tennessee would doubtless vote for Bell, and either would receive a large vote in the Central Slave States. How many Southern States either would carry, is a matter of little moment, for the united free States will govern the result of the election. Total.....

The Courier says:

"The possibility is, that there will be buying and selling of votes in the Charleston Convention, to be paid for by executive patronage. If such shall be the fact, and the Douglas men do buying and selling enough to nominate the Lattle Giant, we do not think the South would stand the operation. The probability is, that the Southern States in that event, would call amother convention and make another nomination. This state of things might throw the election of the next President into the House, and the South, with her one hundred and seventeen votes, against the North, with her one hundred and eighty-six votes, to be divided out between Douglas and some other Northern candidate." Well and Truly Said. Well and Traity Said.

There are a few men in every age whose intellectual and moral nature are so nicely balanced that they command at once the admiration and the esteem of their cotemporaries. When guided and controlled by the princip of our holy religion, the highest intellectual tainments may escape the poisoned shafts of envy, and their possessor may dwell at peace, while all around is excitement and bitterness. Rev. Henry M. Field, editor of the New York Rev. Henry at Pieta, could be seen form Ecangelist, at the recent commencement of Williams College, referred to one who illus-trates these principles in the person of Rev. Mark Hopkins, D. D., President of the College, not hold himself bound to support the Charles-ton nomination, but that he will get the nom-ination if he can, and if he can't get it will

Mark Hopkins, D. D., President of the College, in the following language:

He had known much of theological batreds and bitterness among all denominations, and heard the rivals of schools speak ill of each other. But there was one name—wherever mentioned, at Andover, Yale, East. Windsor, New York, or Princeton—that the breath of theological bitterness had never dared to touch, and whose owner enjoys a fame in all the American Church, that is shared by no other. Righly called was he, after the honored Prelingby sen retired, to preside over the great mission erganization of the world; and long may be continue to adorn a place, which his owerh and the connection of Williams College with our foreign missions rightly entitle him. make an independent race. I am, very respectfully, Your ob't serv't,
G. DONNELLAN.

The following description of a prize fight between Byrne and Connors, of St. Louis, en an island in the river, above Alton, we cut from the Missouri Democrat. The fight took place the mistake that he wat a Democrat. By this fortunate mistake the people of lows are forewarded, and as a reatter of course, forearmed, against the despicable attempt of this corrupt Administration to carry the lows election by a wholesale importation of voters from beyond the borders of our State. Mr. Donnellan, who is a myth, probably, says it is desired at Washington that the Democratic State Ticket should be elected—that tables have been made at Washington showing the required gains in order to carry the State, "assuming the American poll of 1886 to be Democratic," and the average gains for each county, from which data Mr. Donnellan (J. B.) says it tan be comprehended at a plante to "what extent the outposts require strengthening," i. e, how many voters it is necessary to import, and where they fall thetter be placed. Thin it is gravely proposed to the chid, that this scheme of fraud and pipe-laying may be secretly and successfully carried out that the name of one or two "sound" and "discreet fellow-workers," whether Democrats of Americans, matters not so they are discreet, in each towards in the way to war to wear to which the care to company to the place of the control of the contr

It consists of three gigantic main tunnels; at different levels, which intercept the existing sewers at right angles, thus receiving all their costents formerly empticed into the river, and centveying them parallel with the banks of the river about eight miles to Barking, where an intense reservoir is to be prepared to receive them. This reservoir is to be a mile and a half long, by about 100 feet wide and 31 feet deep capable of containing no less than 7,000,000 cubic feet, or double the average of eight hours accumulation of sewage. The object of the narrowness of the reservoir, compared with its length, is to admit of its being bricked over with arches, and covered with earth so as to present the escape of

The steamers Henrietta and Elvira were chartered respectively by the Connors and Byrnes parties, to convey the admiring hosts to the battle ground. Some quits needless apprehensions were expressed lest the police should prevent the excursion, and numbers accordingly left the city for the spot, on Monday.

At half past eight on yesterday morning a large crowd, Connors', gathered at the foot of Morgan street to embark on the Henrietta, and sittl a larger crowd at the foot of Washington Arienne, to take passage on the Elvira. At least seven hundred persons thronged the latter bont, and 50th and 10th and 10t that the name of one or two "south" and "discrete fillow-workers," whether Democrats or Americans, matters not so they are discreet, in each township, be sent to Washington, and to those persons Donqellan (J. B.) will transmit this matter for distribution," money to pay the expense of imported voters and instructions. And these "sound and discreet fellow workers" in order to make them prompt and active and dilligent, are promised office—"a little effort would result in their benefit."

Was there ever a more damning scheme of villainy exposed! book at it, honest Democrats, and blush for shame! Look at it, Germans, read it carefully, and see the secret machinations of those who would agdue yet into voting the Democratic titled. Look at it, Republichas. Your State has been mapped off, and nice calculations made at Washington of the number of voters needed, and decisions made of the place with full instructions and needed uneans, have been appointed in every township in the agents, with full instructions and needed means, have been appointed in every township in the State to carry out this manmoth scheme of executive villainy, and every preparation made to precipitate upon you in October all the votera needed to defeat your ticket.

In this scheme are culisted the leaders of the party in lows of every political shade and hue. Shall it succeed? Will you be thus trampled down? Shall the frauds of Miknesota and Kansas be re-enacted in lows? Forewarsed, forewarsed.

ligerants were unceremonically knocked down and kicked, to their ribs' full content. Similar scenes are reported to have transpired on the Elvira.

The selected ground was gained about two o'clock. Some or fifteen hundred recopie gathered 'to see the show." The lking Maker's were John Gallaher, Thomas Dailey and Connel Matthews. It was uccessairy first to clear the ground of a rank growth of tough grass, after which it was discovered that there was not at hand rope enough for an outer ring. The spirit of fault finding and bravado raged so hotly that Montgomery declared that "this was a mere matter of business between the two men, and that outsiders had no right to interfere." But the outsiders had no right to interfere." But the outsiders had no right to interfere. But the outsiders had no right to interfere. But the outsiders had no right to interfere. The transport of the matter, and evidently looked upon the whole affair as designed for their special amusement. At half past three, Byrnes "shied his castor" into the ring, and was at once followed by Consors. The Iriends of each were sanguine, and bet freely in behalf of their champien. Comnors was accompanied by his backer, who immediately offered to wager $200 that Shanghai would win. Byrnes coolly came forward with a bag of silver and accepted the bet. Connors's eccuds were Billy Denny and Valentine McKinney, while those of "Jim" were Quinn and Loovey. The men were at once stripped and at work in the ring. Byrnes was knocked down in the first (Condential.)

Watersprote Crt., D. C., July 28, 1839.

Sin: In view of the approaching Presidential campaign, the election of a United States Senator by the next General Assembly, and the fact that the Democracy of lows have on their State the test and the Cotober election men who are the unanimous choice of the party, it is here, as with you, desired that they should free themselves, in the management of their internal affairs, from the opposition rule, while the "golden opportunity" is presented.

In view, I say, of all this, as an individual, a citizen of lows, and a Democrat, I, too, feel a deep interest in her welfare and the success of our party, and in order to render more efficient service—from this distant point—have prepared, from the gopular vote of 1836, and the State poll of 1858, a tabular achibit, showing the political condition of the State, as follows:

of silver and accepted the ber. Comions' seconds were Billy Denny and Valentine McKinney, while those of "Jim" were Quinn and Loogey. The men were at once stripped and at work in the ring. Ryrnes was knocked diwn in the first rotind. In the second there was much sparring with little hitting. Comors saved his face very skilituily, and watched his chance warily. The third was worse for each, but not serious, and closed with Shanghai down. The fourth, fifth and sixth were concluded by a heavy fall of Comors' on Byrnes' ribs. The former kept himself unscratched, while his adversary was less successful. The remaining rounds were contested with dauntless spirit on each side. During the fourteenth Shanghai was brought to his knees, and while in that position was struck. There rose at once the cry of "Foul play!" and the referee reaffirmed that decision. The victory was thus awarded to Comors.

When this decision was announced, Byrnes fierely reumonstrated. Some five or six hundred outsiders then burst into the ring and a general row ensued. Byrnes seized the referee Mpreiand, by the throat, asping, "Do you mean to say I've lost it?" Moreland was then attacked by Byrne's, principals, was struck and kicked, and had a portion of his face gonged out with a stick. Conners with the most of his party promptly drew off to their boat, while the balance remanced fighting with the Byrnes men, the most of whom gradually followed to the Hebrietta. Stripped, bloody and enraged, Byrnes dared Connor to come out and finish the fight, which he declined under the circumstances to do. Then many of Conners' men rushed on shore and joined their comrades, and a scene of riot and murderous attack followed which baffles description. Knives were freely used, bottles, sicks and rocks were burled, and at last a shot was fired.

This was the signal for a general drawing of pistols, and some one hundred shots were rapidly fired. Those who had not pistols rushed for their boats, which at the same time began backing off from the shore.

There was th 1st. The Democratic majorities and minorities in each county.

These works are now going an with great rapidity and in the most thorough and profuse manner, and it will take about five years to complete them. In about five years, then, Father Thames may reasume the argent in his now blurred and defaced shield, and take again his Silver style and title. The expense of this splendid public work will be about £4,000,000, or one half the annual addi-tion to the estimates for the array and navy, in consequence of the panic, scarcely disguised in England, occasioned by the uncertain plans of the French Emperor. BESS WARMING IN A MERCHANT'S WINDOW.—
A SWARM of honey bees entered the fruit store of Messrs. Beard & Osborn, under the Russell House, yesterday morning, and took possasion the show writtows, reluxing to be removed. The swarm was quite large and the bees very active, though not cross. They attracted a good deal of attention throughout the day, obstitutely resisting every effort to hive them, and gathering in bunches in different places on the window frame. They retained their pestion until the close of business. It is thefirst instance on record of bees taking possession of a store. water? The swimmers at length scrambled on board, not knowing how many had sank and been drownad. Probably three or four perished—at least.

The Henrietta, was soon following the Elviro, both boats bearing numbers behind them on the island. It was about 44 o'clock P. M. Montgomery had narrowly escaped drowning, having leaped overboard to sare a man who appeared helpless, and being himself drawn out by his son, the son also succeeded in saving the inar. One wretch who was shockingly cut, had been, with great difficulty, rescued by getting him on a plank.

The market was, it possible, more dull yesterday than it was the day before. The tendency on flour is strongly downward, and buyers are still more indisposed to operate. Holders were offering yesterday $5@5.25 for red and white, but no sales were made, except a few small-lots. Wheat is wholly nominal at $1 for red, and $1.05@1.10 for white. Like flour, the market is looking downward. Corn is offering freely at 70c, but no one wishes to buy, and that price could not be obtained for any considerable lot if there was. Oats could be sold at 30c, but there are none offering.
